That beauty and brains can go hand-in-hand was once again proved when Patricia Ann Travis last week won the title of Miss Greater San Jose of 1961. The statuesque San Jose State College sophomore is a former Torrance High School graduate and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Travis of 21135 S. Hobart Blvd.

The Committee is "deeply concerned", said May, that probation is not attracting college graduates in sufficient numbers due to the present inadequate wage scale to pro-vide the high standards of prothe high standards of pro-fessional service required by the Courts. The Committee is asking the Board of Super-visors to grant a 22 per cent pay increase to Probation Of-ficers on July 1.

MAY POINTED out that Probation Officers in Los Angeles County are required to

A plea for a complete revaluation of the role, status and salary of County Probation Officers was made today by David May as chairman of a Citizens Committee For Improved Probation Service.

"How a Probation Officer in the Juvenile and Criminal Courts of the delinquent or neglected child in Juvenile court often determines whether that child becomes an adult criminal or a responsible citizen," May stated. More than 16,000 children were placed on probation last year by highly qualified men and women now being employed to serve as Probation Officers in the Juvenile and Criminal Courts is less than $100 a week. Probation Officers in the county have received ne pay increase since 1959. The Committee's plea for a complete re - evaluation of the status and salary of Probation Officers will come before the Board of Supervisors within the next three weeks.

Members of the Committee

Members of the Committee include Dean Robert Kingsley of the S. C. Law School, Attorneys Grant Cooper, Jerry Glesler, Issac Pacht, Joseph A. Ball and Jerome J. Mayo. Also, Bud Pozzo, Carmen Warschaw, Swhil Brand Reverend John ACCORDING to the committee chairman, "It costs almost $2000 a year to keep a prisoner in the County Jail. It costs less than $175.00 ayear to keep a person on probation with proper treatment and supervision."

May, department store executive, heads a distinguished panel making up a Citizens Committee for Improved Probation Service. He said his group is seeking to raise the status of the Probation Offi-
